

Unit 2: At the Store

Part 1: Listening Script (Dialogue)

Characters: Customer (Female), Shop Assistant (Male)

Context: A customer is buying supplies for a small office.

(Sound of a door chime, light background store music)

Assistant: Hello. Can I help you?

Customer: Yes, hello. I need some things for my office.

Assistant: Okay. What do you need?

Customer: First, I need thirty black pens.

Assistant: Thirty? Sure. And anything else?

Customer: Yes. Do you have notebooks?

Assistant: Yes, we do. Big or small?

Customer: The small ones, please. I'd like twenty-five.

Assistant: Twenty-five small notebooks. Okay.

Customer: Good. And... I also need some paper. Do you have white paper?

Assistant: Yes. How many sheets?

Customer: One hundred sheets, please.

Assistant: One hundred sheets of white paper. Right. Is that all?

Customer: Let me think... Oh! Sticky notes. Do you have the yellow ones?

Assistant: Yes. A pack has fifty notes.

Customer: Perfect. I'll take one pack.

Assistant: Great. So, thirty pens, twenty-five notebooks, one hundred sheets of paper, and one pack of sticky notes.

Customer: That's right. Thank you.
